Thank you for being a WCC Ambassador! This program offers a unique opportunity to be an integral volunteer with the Women’s Community Center programs and activities. We’re excited to work with you to further the WCC’s mission of scholarship, leadership, and activism.

HAVE AN IDEA?

Reach out to us by filling out this Idea Submission Form! We want to work with you to bring your ideas to life. For your reference, here are our existing program areas and corresponding student coordinators:

Once you’ve submitted your idea through the link provided, someone will be in touch with you to discuss your idea. From there on out, correspondence will take whatever form is most effective and convenient: emailing, meeting in person during office hours, or inviting you to a staff meeting.

If you have any questions, reach out to the coordinators of the Ambassador Program: Pooja Varman (pvarman@stanford.edu) and Claire Robinson (crubins3@stanford.edu)
WANT TO SUPPORT US?

Our WCC staff and interns work throughout the year to put on programming: workshops, panels, conferences, etc. Here’s how to get involved with our programming as more than an attendee:

1. Spread the word
   You can forward our emails to your lists, make announcements in your dorm, put up flyers, etc. We’ll send out emails about upcoming events through the wcc-announce and wccambassadors lists.

2. Respond to volunteer requests
   If a staff member or intern needs help with an event, they’ll send an email to the wccambassadors list. If you’re interested in helping out, sign up!

3. Attend our events
   Of course, attend any of our events that interest you!

4. Invite your friends to become WCC Ambassadors
   We’re always welcoming new WCC Ambassadors. If you know anyone who might be interested in the Ambassador Program, direct them to our website:
   https://wcc.stanford.edu/get-involved/ambassador

WANT OUR SUPPORT?

It’s also important to us to support you and your communities. If there are programs outside of the WCC that you’d like our support with, we’re here for you:

1. Feel free to forward along your flyers to the wcc-announce list if you think the program would be relevant to the members of our community.

2. If you need help with any of these programs, shoot an email to the wccambassadors list.

3. If you have a co-sponsorship or space request, email stanfordwcc@stanford.edu

A FEW NOTES

The Email Lists:

- wccambassadors@lists.stanford.edu: communication among WCC staff, interns, and ambassadors
- wcc-announce@lists.stanford.edu: make announcements and to spread the word about upcoming events that are hosted by the WCC or relevant to the WCC community

Regular Meetings:

We hope to arrange regular meetings to discuss ideas, upcoming events, etc. For now, email is the best way to stay up-to-date on all WCC and Ambassador Program happenings.

For more information, visit our website wcc.stanford.edu or email us.

Ambassador Program Coordinators: Pooja Varman (pvarman@stanford.edu) and Claire Robinson (crobins3@stanford.edu)
